The time has come where all human beings come together, Time has come to listen to the Great Mother's heart for she is calling...In every beat she is saying "I love you"

Through love we become one for unity is possible...

For It is love what unites... in every beat Mama is saying I recognize you in me, can you recognize me in you?

Sacredness of life is here as a way of living,

Yes, the time has come for all human beings to encounter peace within and without the self.

The time is Now. For there is only one nature, one heart beat, the beat of the mother, the sacred heart beat of all life forms,

This is our Mother, we all are making the sacred dance with her, in her and for her

Now is the time for human beings to listen to her heart beat, listen to her song....

This is a special invitation for you to come & celebrate life as it was meant to be since the beginning of time

Speakers' presentations will begin after 12 pm...
